

SARAH TREANOR

mixed media artist & writer

ARTIST STATEMENT:

Sarah Treanor is a mixed media artist whose work is strongly tied to nature. Although she is proficient in many mediums, she works primarily in encaustic, assemblage, and experimental photographic techniques. She weaves these varied mediums together with a connection to nature and spirituality rooted in loved ones lost. The dance between mediums energizes her, while her intuitive connections lead her forward.

Sarah's work has been exhibited around the United States, licensed for book covers internationally, and won various awards and publication honors. Her art is in national and international collections. Sarah Treanor lives in Akron, OH and can be found frequenting the many local area parks for inspiration for her work.
